

STRATEGY GENERATION WORKSHOP

A Facilitated Strategic Planning and Learning Workshop

Strategy Generation Company

The best way to learn how to develop your product or business strategy is to just start building it!

Our Strategy Generation Workshop steps participants through the strategy development process with a unique combination of learning and doing.

Participants join the workshop in teams, with each team being responsible for a specific product or portfolio that's in need of a strategy. Throughout the workshop, participants are taught each step of the strategy development process, and are led through a series of coached exercises that they apply to their own products in real time. Teams come out of the workshop with a draft of their strategic plans that they can continue to work on and bring to life after the workshop has concluded.
